

TWO HANDBAGS JOSEF HOFFMANN WIENER WERKSTATTE

€11.000,00

Josef Hoffmann, Wiener Werkstatte, two handbags, goat leather, gilded and embossed,
ca. 1924

The fashion department of the Wiener Werkstatte was very successful during the 1920s. The most important designers of that period were Eduard Josef Wimmer-Wisgrill and Josef Hoffmann. Until the closure of the Wiener Werkstatte, the fashion department sold pieces all over the world and was a great influence for the haute couture at that time.

This handbag was designed by Josef Hoffmann around 1924. It is made of gold embossed goat leather with a brass frame crowned by a brass button. It is marked inside the strap with "Wiener Werk Stätte". The bag bears the so-called "Rhombus" decoration.
